Overview

GovRisk has engaged partners in the widespread adoption and implementation of targeted international best practices advocated under its projects. This includes improvements to legislation, regulation, standards, technical processes and procedures, capacity and capabilities, as well as inter-institutional coordination.

Our projects have achieved transformative impacts, far greater than in their initial outlay.

This is achieved through our carefully curated and wide-ranging faculty of international and local experts. Some examples include high-ranking investigators, former policy officials, law enforcement and private sector specialists.

A brief overview of some of these projects is provided in the selection, organised in five thematic areas:

- Financial Crime Prevention
- Anti-Corruption
- Public Financial Management and Accountability
- Improving the Business Environment
- Judicial Reform

The projects will also be tagged based on their methodology and donors; alongside being separated by geographical location.

More information is available on request.

Case Study:

Western Balkans Rule of Law Initiative, WBROLI (2022-2025)

GovRisk is working in partnership with Chemonics in the delivery of the Western Balkans Rule of Law Initiative (WBROLI), a six-country programme aiming to contribute to high level UK Government objectives related to reducing the threat and impact of Serious and Organised Crime (SOC), including corruption and illicit financial flows in the Western Balkans and its impact on the UK. WBROLI comprises two workstreams which aim to promote the application of the principles of democratic governance:

- i) Criminal justice
- ii) Transparency & accountability.

GovRisk has been working across both workstreams since July 2022, acting as the lead implementer for the programme's anti-corruption work in BiH and as a key delivery partner for criminal justice reform interventions in Kosovo and Montenegro.

GovRisk's work on WBROLI focuses on two key areas in the different jurisdictions: strengthening the anti-corruption regime at the cantonal level in Sarajevo and strengthening the criminal justice systems which work to fight SOC and corruption in Kosovo and Montenegro.

TECHNICAL THEMATIC AREAS

Financial Crime Prevention

Technical assistance and advisory support on all aspects of financial crime prevention, detection, investigation, and prosecution, including preparation and follow-up for relevant international assessments (e.g. FATF Mutual Evaluations).

Europe

- Western Balkans Rule of Law Initiative, WBROLI (2022-2025) | FCDO & Home Office

Training Programme

This work is focused on addressing systemic issues across the criminal justice chain and strengthening the performance of key institutions involved in combating serious and organised crime in the region.

South America

- Sports Integrity Summit (Brazil, 2019-2024) | Genius Sports

Summit

GovRisk, in partnership with Genius Sports, hosts a landmark, multi-stakeholder Sports Integrity Summit in Brazil.

- In 2019, five expert panels discussed the importance of integrity in professional sport; the growing relevance of technology in identifying suspicious betting activities; the dangers of illegal betting markets; the impact that legislative and regulatory changes can have and the possible ways to create networks of local, national, and global cooperation with legislators, regulators, enforcement agencies, promoters, data providers, and betting operators to avoid manipulation of game results.
- The Summit resulted in a pledge by participating representatives from both the public and private sectors to create a Task Force to ensure continuous cooperation towards the design of Brazil's regulatory framework.

Asia

- Support to Myanmar's Financial Intelligence Unit (MFUI) and regulated sectors (Myanmar, 2014-2018) | Myanmar's FIU

Capacity-Building Activities

Over the course of five years, GovRisk provided technical assistance, strategy and capacity-building to Myanmar to support the development of the country's AML/CFT regime in the context of its 2017-18 3rd round APG Mutual Evaluation. This support was coordinated through Myanmar's FIU and engaged all key public and private sector entities with a role in the country's AML/CFT regime.

Africa

- Research into Mauritian readiness to accede to the OECD Working Group on Bribery (WGB) (2022-2024)

Mock Evaluation

This project supported Mauritius to prepare for its accession process to the OECD Working Group on Bribery (WGB) through a mock evaluation (drawing from the Phase 1 and Phase 2 parts of the Working Group's country assessment process) which identified relevant gaps in the country's legal and regulatory framework (and, to an extent, the institutions and practices to enforce this framework) and recommended corresponding remedial actions.

Latin America

Caribbean

- Countering the Financing of Terrorism in South America (Argentina, Brazil & Paraguay, 2021-2023) | US Department of State

Capacity-Building Activities

GovRisk is a key partner to the American Bar Association in the delivery of this multi-year U.S. Department of State funded project designed to build the capacity of governments and financial sector stakeholders in Argentina, Brazil, and Paraguay and the Triborder Area (TBA) to degrade and disrupt the financing of Hizballah and other terrorist groups, thus limiting their ability to plan and carry out attacks in the TBA region and globally.

- The programme aims to strengthen the effective implementation of anti-money laundering and countering the financing of terrorism (AML/CFT) measures in a manner consistent with the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) recommendations.
- This involved assessing opportunities to strengthen public and private sector institutions' capacity to effectively combat money laundering (ML) and terrorist financing (TF), and increasing key AML/CFT actors' understanding of best practices.

- Strategy and capacity building for the adoption of improved models for the criminal investigation of embezzlement and homicides in Mexico (2021-22) | FCDO

Capacity-Building Activities

GovRisk was the lead implementer for this UK Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO) funded project which supported public prosecutors from the states of Mexico City, Tabasco, Jalisco and Chihuahua to adopt improved standards and processes for the investigation of homicides and embezzlement.

- Caribbean and Latin America Forum on Financial Crime Prevention Effective Implementation of the new FATF Standards \(Panama, 2012-13\) | British Embassy in Panama

Consultations

GovRisk organised a forum attended by approximately 180 officials from a wide variety of public and private sector bodies from 25 countries. The consultations with local stakeholders conducted by GovRisk revealed shortcomings in the capacity of Panamanian officials, and those within the wider region, to comply with FATF international standards and, crucially, the failure of preventative measures to adequately address all the risks highlighted by FATF.

Anti-Corruption

Capacity-building and technical assistance to support anti-corruption efforts from legal reform and prevention initiatives through to prosecution.

Latin America
Caribbean

- Transparent and Accountable Public Investment \(TAPI\) \(Peru, 2020-25\) | USAID

Trainings
Activities

GovRisk is a key subcontractor to Chemonics in the delivery of this five-year programme. Funded by USAID, it is designed to develop integrity standards to be applied by regional governments delivering public works, which will be monitored by integrity networks made up of civil society and private sector representatives. GovRisk's key role is to design and implement activities designed to strengthen prevention, control and supervision mechanisms to reduce corruption at the regional and national level.

- Scoping study on Serious Organised Crime in Panama, including financial crime, with a particular focus on money laundering, corruption and narcotics \(Panama, 2018-19\) | CSSF

Scoping Study
Research

As the UK Government developed its 5-year strategy relating to Serious and Organised Crime (SOC) in Panama and shaping its priorities for upcoming CSSF projects, GovRisk was contracted to support this exercise by conducting an in-depth scoping study to offer evidence-based analysis and recommendations.

- The scoping study analysed the threats in place and weaknesses in Panama's institutions and approach. It assessed the strengths in the work being done so far and identified gaps where specific and targeted interventions from the British Government (including through locally implemented CSSF projects) could have the biggest impact in tackling SOC.
- It also offered highly targeted recommendations developed by a team of leading international experts, including a roadmap identifying priority action points.

- Strategy and Capacity Building: Improving Corruption Whistle-Blower Systems and Establishing Effective Whistle-Blower Protection Legislation in Central America \(Regional – Central America, 2017-18\)

Capacity-Building Activities

GovRisk aided competent authorities from six participating jurisdictions (Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Panama, and Nicaragua) in the development of more effective strategies for the provision of protection to those who report corruption in good faith, and on reasonable grounds, thus improving capacity and political will of said authorities to prevent, detect, investigate, and prosecute wrongdoing.

- Strategy and Capacity Building for the Effective Implementation of Mexico's National Anti-Corruption System \(Mexico, 2015-18\)

Capacity-Building Activities

The purpose of this project was to: 1) to ensure the adoption by congress of international best practices and the interests and concerns of the key governmental institutions making up Mexico's National Anti-corruption System and 2) following the establishment of the secondary legislation, increase the technical capacity of key governmental institutions making up Mexico's NAS to fulfil their increased responsibilities and/or amended mandates.

- Fulfilling New Institutional Responsibilities within the National Anti-Corruption System: Strategy and Capacity Building for Mexico's Supreme Federal Audit Institute, Public Administration and Office of the Attorney General \(Mexico, 2016-17\)

Capacity-Building Activities
Consultations

GovRisk carried out a three-stage project, providing assistance to Mexico's Supreme Audit Office, Ministry of Public Administration and Office of the Attorney General in order to support them in the execution of their revised responsibilities within the country's newly established National Anti-Corruption System (SNA).

- This included a series of high-level capacity-building programmes and expert-led consultation aiming to identify international best practice suitable for implementation into the country's audit quality control and communication processes (ASF), whistle-blower protection framework (SFP), and corruption investigations and prosecutions (PGR).

► Caribbean Anti-Corruption and Financial Crime Prevention – Regional Initiative (Caribbean, 2016-17)

Research

Capacity-Building Activities

This regional initiative supported the Caribbean Financial Action Task Force (CFATF) and the Commonwealth Caribbean Association of Integrity Commissions and Anti-Corruption Bodies (CCAICACB), to brought together over 16 Caribbean jurisdictions, in order to help jurisdictions, prepare for FATF Mutual Evaluations (MEs) and maximise the impact of their anti-corruption (AC) and anti-money laundering (AML) resources. A regional research element of the project benchmarked the policies and procedures of participating jurisdictions' Anti-Corruption Agencies and Integrity Commissions and a two-day capacity building forum in Port of Spain compared jurisdictions' approaches to financial crime prevention.

► Leveraging UK Best Practices to Support the Design of Panama's New Anti-Corruption Legislation (Panama, 2016-17) | UK Embassy in Panama

Workshop

Following the UK Embassy in Panama's request, GovRisk organised a small workshop/round table to discuss specific recommendations on the draft legislation with public officials responsible for its development and a public presentation of the theory/best practice that informs good legislation, with an audience of MPs from the National Assembly.

► Strategy and Capacity Building for the Effective Implementation of Colombia's New Anti-Bribery Legislation (Colombia, 2015-16) | FCO

Capacity-Building Activities

This project's objective was to ensure that Colombia's new Anti- Bribery Law would be implemented effectively, with improved detection, investigation, sanctioning and prevention strategies, methodologies, and technologies, based on the UK Bribery Act as a best practice reference. As a result of this project, Colombia's new anti-bribery legislation incorporated provisions similar to the internationally recognised standards of the UK Bribery Act and helped introduce reforms to improve compliance by the private sector with its requirements. This project was delivered in collaboration with Colombia's Superintendence of Companies and its Transparency Secretariat and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Building a Strategy and Capacity Building for the Effective Implementation of Mexico's New National Anti-Corruption System (Mexico, 2015-16)

Capacity-Building Activities

The programme sought to provide the Superior Auditor of the Federation (ASF) with the expertise and analytical tools to establish, regulate, train and supervise new highly specialised anti-corruption units within the competent control entities in each of Mexico's 32 States.

► Manual Design and Capacity Building for Peru's Comptroller General's Office: Identifying and Investigating Fraud, Corruption and Waste in the Procurement of Public Works (Peru, 2013-14) | FCO

Technical Assistance

GovRisk provided technical assistance to Peru's National Audit Office (NAO) for the development of an official institutional manual providing practical instruction for officials at national, regional and local levels to identify and address the corruption risks involved in the procurement of public works. This project was delivered in collaboration with Peru's High Level Anti-Corruption Commission and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Capacity Building for Peru's Public Prosecutor's Office: Identifying, Investigating & Prosecuting Fraud & Corruption in Public Procurement (Peru, 2012-13) | FCO

Capacity-Building Activities

Capacity building for approximately 100 senior anti-corruption prosecutors, assistant senior prosecutors, provincial prosecutors and their deputies from 24 regional Departments in advanced techniques for the detection, investigation and prosecution of procurement fraud. This project was delivered in collaboration with the Lima Chamber of Commerce and Peru's High Level Anti-Corruption Commission and the Anti-Corruption Unit of the Public Prosecutor's Office and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Implementing a High-Level Reporting Mechanism (HLRM) for Accusations of Corruption and Bribery in Colombia (Colombia, 2012-13)

Technical Assistance

Assistance was provided in the design and implementation plan of a HLRM for allegations of corruption (an OECD-backed initiative). Colombia's proposed framework for a HLRM was significantly strengthened as a direct result of this programme.

► Support to the Republic of Armenia in Strengthening Institutional and Civil Society Capacity in the Fight Against Corruption (Armenia, 2017-18)

Technical Assistance

GovRisk provided support to the Government of Armenia in the implementation of its 2015-2018 Anti-Corruption Strategy, through targeted assistance designed to build the capacity of the country's Ethics Commission for High-Ranking Officials (CEHRO or the Commission) to implement its new powers following legislative reforms expanding its mandate and initiating its transition into the national Corruption Prevention Commission.

Public Financial Management and Accountability

Programmes and initiatives supporting the increased efficiency, transparency, and accountability of public entities' expenditure, policies, and programmes. This includes public procurement digitalisation and legislative reform.

Asia

- Facilitating the Participation of SMEs in Public Tenders Conducted on the Electronic Public Procurement System (Kyrgyz Republic, Tajikistan 2017-2020) | EBRD

Technical Assistance

Procurement

GovRisk led a European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) funded programme designed to open the existing system of public procurement for the active participation of a larger number of companies, especially SMEs. GovRisk developed both the technological and legislative instruments to transition to a digital government procurement platform that increases transparency and strengthens SME participation in the markets. The work included providing analysis and quality assurance on the company data collection of the procurement platform and designing legislative instruments to allow for the collection of relevant data.

Latin America

Caribbean

- Promoting Efficiency, Transparency and Accountability in Framework Agreements in Panama, with a Particular Focus on Government Procurement of Heavy Construction Machinery (Panama, 2017-18) | FCO

Technical Assistance

GovRisk provided technical assistance to Panama's General Directorate of Public Contracts (DGCP) to design and begin to implement a new and improved Framework Agreement for public procurement of heavy construction machinery, so as to increase efficiency, transparency, and accountability. The programme facilitated the introduction of UK and other international best practices into the restructuring process of the Administrative and Operative departments of the DGCP. This project was delivered in collaboration with Panama's General Directorate of Public Contracts and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

- Strategy and Capacity Building: Reducing Opportunities for Corruption in the Contracting of Public Works in Uruguay (Uruguay, 2016-17) | FCO

Technical Assistance

GovRisk provided technical assistance to Panama's General Directorate of Public Contracts (DGCP) to design and begin to implement a new and improved Framework Agreement for public procurement of heavy construction machinery. GovRisk conducted an analysis of existing vulnerabilities to fraud, corruption, and collusion in the procurement of public works. This was followed by a series of high-level capacity building seminars attended by key public, private and civil society representatives with responsibilities for the procurement and/or control of public works and infrastructure. This project was delivered in collaboration with Uruguay's Transparency and Public Ethics Commission (JUTEP) and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

- Transparency and Accountability: Introducing International Best Practices in Panama's Procurement Framework (Panama, 2015-16) | FCO

Technical Assistance

GovRisk provided technical assistance to the interinstitutional commission responsible for reforming Procurement Law 22 in order to facilitate the adoption and adaptation of international best practices relating to: The implementation of a transparent, non-discriminatory and predictable public procurement processes; and reducing bureaucratic procurement procedures, thereby relieving the burden on international businesses competing for tenders for public contracts. Following the assistance, several revision meetings took place before the new Law was sustained before the Cabinet and presented to the National Assembly in February 2016. This project was delivered in collaboration with Panama's General Directorate of Public Contracts and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

- Simplification, Transparency and Efficiency: Introducing Best Practices in Procurement Processes for Public Works in Panama (Panama, 2014-15) | FCO

Technical Assistance

Procurement

GovRisk assisted the Ministry of Public Works with; A) the simplification and streamlining of Panama's procurement processes for public works; and B) the development and implementation of an internal referential pricing database. This project was delivered in collaboration with Panama's Ministry of Public Works and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

- Capacity Building for Major Construction Firms Operating in Peru: Identifying and Investigating Fraud, Corruption and Waste in the Procurement of Public Works (Peru, 2013-14) | FCO

Capacity Building Activities

Public Procurement

Under this project, GovRisk provided capacity building to Major Construction Firms Operating in Peru on how to identify and address the corruption risks involved in the procurement of public works. This project was delivered in collaboration with the Lima Chamber of Commerce and Peru's High Level Anti-Corruption Commission.

► Capacity Building for Peru's Public Prosecutor's Office: Identifying, Investigating & Prosecuting Fraud & Corruption in Public Procurement (Peru, 2012-13) | FCO

Capacity-Building Activities

Public Procurement

GovRisk provided capacity building for approximately 100 senior anti-corruption prosecutors, assistant senior prosecutors, provincial prosecutors and their deputies from 24 regional Departments in advanced techniques for the detection, investigation and prosecution of procurement fraud. This project was delivered in collaboration with the Lima Chamber of Commerce and Peru's High Level Anti-Corruption Commission and the Anti-Corruption Unit of the Public Prosecutor's Office and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Public Procurement in Colombia: Strategy and Training (Colombia, 2012-13) | FCO

Technical Assistance

Public Procurement

Assistance was provided to help increase the efficiency, competitiveness, and transparency of public procurement processes in Colombia via the centralisation of Colombia's procurement function.

- Key policy formulators and procurement officials reported that the project had directly informed numerous areas of policy and significantly advanced the development of its e-procurement platform.
- The project further spurred new initiatives to centralise purchases of insurance and fuel, to increase its market research function, and advance its e-procurement platform.
- Furthermore, the various GovRisk activities helped bring about a noticeable improvement in relations between procurement officials and members of the CCE and improved local buy into the procurement centralisation project.
- Together, these enabled the advance of several new initiatives, including the creation of a network of procurement officials and a CCE-led mentoring programme for other public bodies. This project was delivered in collaboration with Colombia's National Procurement Agency (CCE) and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Ratification and implementation of the OECD Anti-Bribery Convention (Colombia, 2012-13) | FCO

Capacity-Building Activities

Mentoring

Under the project, comprehensive mentoring and capacity building was provided to officials at key junctures in Colombia's move to ratify the OECD Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Officials. The success of this programme was demonstrated by the fact that Colombia passed key stages of assessment for this initiative shortly after the project. Building on this impetus, Colombia was able to successfully ratify the OECD Anti-bribery Convention, doing so on January 19th 2013. This project was delivered in collaboration with Colombia's Transparency Secretariat and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

► Tackling Corruption and Collusion in Public Procurement (Latin America and the Caribbean, 2012-13) | FCO

Public Procurement

The aim of this project was to help generate consensus among competent stakeholders about which national/international best practices should be adapted/adopted in beneficiary countries. A broad range of institutions involved in the anti-corruption and anti-collusion effort in 26 countries participated in this programme, as well as more than 15 international experts. This project was delivered in collaboration with Panama's General Directorate of Public Contracts and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

Europe

► Combating Corruption, Bid Rigging and Collusion in Public Contracting (Latvia and Lithuania, 2016)

Capacity-Building Activities

This targeted capacity-building project aimed to promote competition, market stabilisation and obtain best value for money by increasing the capacity of Latvia's and Lithuania's competent authorities to detect, investigate and prosecute corruption, bid rigging schemes and collusion in procurement processes. The project delivered high-level training seminars which covered a range of topics, including Schemes and Indicators; Detection Methods; Methods of Proof; Reporting and Evidence and Practical Exercises.

Improving The Business Environment

Promoting improved regulation of the business environment, corporate compliance, and accountability, and fostering dialogue and effective partnerships between public policy-makers and the private sector.

Asia

► Financial Sector and Intellectual Property (FSIP) Programme (Myanmar, 2018-2022) | Government and private sector

Workstream Implementation

GovRisk led the design and delivery of FSIP's AML Workstream in Myanmar, working with a range of Government and private sector stakeholders to support the country's improved implementation of international standards for AML/CFT. Key areas of focus were improved national coordination and the risk-based approach; improving AML/CFT regulation and supervision in the financial sector (working with the Central Bank of Myanmar and the Financial Regulatory Department); supporting improved financial sector compliance (in particular STRs and CDD); improving the quality and use of financial intelligence (working with the Myanmar Financial Intelligence Unit); and improving the capacity of the Union Attorney General's Office (UAGO) for prosecutions.

► Modernising China's Anti-Money Laundering Framework (China, 2016 - 22) | UK Government

Technical Assistance

Trainings

This UK Government-funded programme supported the modernisation of China's Anti-Money Laundering (AML) system in line with international standards, a major requirement for the continued integration of China's financial sector into the rules-based international economic system. Under consecutive projects from 2016, GovRisk provided extensive technical assistance, expert-led training and advisory support across several technical areas including: improved understanding of China's ML risk profile at the national, sectoral and institutional levels; the implementation of risk-based supervision and effective preventive measures for regulated sectors; and establishment of a Beneficial Ownership Disclosure (BOD) system.

► Business Perceptions Survey for Indonesia (Indonesia, 2021) | FCDO

Research

Survey Design

This FCDO-funded project explored regulatory and business environment concerns affecting the willingness of UK businesses to invest in or trade with the Indonesian market. GovRisk designed comprehensive frameworks for qualitative and quantitative data collection and engaged with industry representatives from over 12 sectors. The project successfully identified the most pertinent barriers to trade that prevent UK companies from entering Indonesian markets, opportunities to design tools that would facilitate market entry and specific business needs in terms of Government support. GovRisk reporting from this project was used to inform future HMG initiatives in Indonesia. Uptake of the project results and recommendations ensured that planned FCDO programming, including the implementation of the Joint Trade Review, was firmly rooted in the practical concerns of UK businesses which are able to do business in Southeast Asia's largest market.

Africa

► Measuring the Perception of Business across Africa (2021) | DIT

Research

Survey Design

GovRisk was commissioned by the UK Department for International Trade (DIT) for a project that mapped the perceptions of African businesses across Egypt, Kenya, Nigeria, and South Africa. The research aimed to understand the companies' views, experiences, and perceptions related to trading or investing in or with the United Kingdom as well as internationally. Through an online survey, focus group discussions, and in-depth interviews, GovRisk obtained a combination of qualitative and quantitative data as well as anecdotal evidence and case studies. The project offered valuable insights into the specific perceptions of representatives from individual markets as well as findings which emerged across the board.

► Monitoring, Evaluation & Learning of the Kenya Business Integrity Initiative (Kenya, 2019-20) | DFID

Technical Assistance

MEL

GovRisk acted as the Monitoring & Learning agent for DFID's Pilot programme in Kenya. This included working with Her Majesty's Government (HMG) to establish the most effective and efficient ways of providing businesses in frontier markets with integrity support. GovRisk monitored and evaluated the quality, effectiveness, value for money, sustainability, and impact on business strategy and investment decisions of the various Pilot activities. Apart from independent monitoring and evaluation, GovRisk also leveraged technical expertise to provide proactive recommendations on the design, methodology, content, and most effective delivery of the business integrity support.

Latin America

► Monitoring, Evaluation & Learning of the Mexico Business Integrity (Mexico, 2019-2020)

MEL

GovRisk monitored how the UK Government interacts with Mexican authorities to help overcome barriers to market entry, as well as other potential obstacles. The monitoring, evaluation and learning project aimed at understanding the lessons learnt from the first pilot initiative in Mexico in order to inform the design and upscaling of this effort globally. GovRisk worked with UK embassies to establish how to gather information regarding corrupt business practices and economic crimes without falling foul of freedom of information requests.

- GovRisk designed and developed a strategy for the government to easily store, access, and present the information electronically, as well as provided recommendations on how the government might be able to utilise this intelligence to provide constructive guidance to UK companies operating in this market.

► Strategy and capacity building in Guatemala for the Supervision, Monitoring and Regulation of Designated Non-Financial Businesses or Professions (DNFBPs) for Compliance with AML/CFT (Guatemala, 2016-17)

Capacity-Building Activities

The overall objective of this project was to ensure that the proceeds of crime and funds in support of terrorism are prevented from entering the financial and other sectors in Guatemala, or are detected and reported by these sectors by ensuring that supervisors appropriately supervise, monitor and regulate Designated Non-Financial Businesses or Professions (DNFBPs) for compliance with AML/CFT requirements commensurate with their risks. Project impacts meant that key stakeholders from Guatemala's competent authorities for AML/CFT are now collectively better placed to incorporate best practices to ensure the effective regulation and supervision of DNFBPs in accordance with their level of risk.

► Implementing Best Practice Anti-Bribery Policies in Peru (Peru, 2014-15) | FCO

Seminars

Campaigning

A series of bespoke seminars and a targeted communications campaign were delivered to reduce resistance from the Peruvian business community, the press and congressional representatives, to proposed legislation establishing direct corporate liability for bribery cases in Peru, as required for the ratification of the OECD Anti-Bribery Convention. This project was delivered in collaboration with Peru's High Level Anti-Corruption Commission and was financed by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

Judicial Reform

Promoting the improved efficiency of judicial processes and procedures in line with international best practice.

Latin America

► UK Prosperity Fund's Anti-Corruption and Rule of Law (ACROL) (Mexico, 2018-22)

Capacity-Building

Delivery Assistance

As a partner to PA Consulting, GovRisk supported the delivery of interventions designed to support improvements across Mexico's criminal justice system in line with the UN's Sustainable Development Objectives. Key areas of focus for this work included: i) streamlining and standardising the processes for detecting and investigating homicides, embezzlement and cyber fraud; ii) building the capacities of officials working in the detection and investigation of homicides, embezzlement and cyber fraud; iii) improving the coordination between institutions investigating homicides, embezzlement and cybercrime.

► Introducing Best Practices into the Legislative and Operational Design for the Execution of Joint Anti-Money Laundering Investigations by competent Authorities in Guatemala, Honduras and El Salvador (Central American, 2017-18)

Capacity-Building Activities

The programme aimed to leverage UK and international best practices for introduction into the legislative and operational design of Joint Anti-Money Laundering Investigations Teams. Project impacts meant that key officials with responsibilities for developing the legislative framework and operational design for the execution of Joint Anti-Money Laundering Investigation Teams, are collectively better placed to incorporate international best practices as they push forward this agenda in the Northern Triangle. This included increased capacity, political will and informal networks for information exchange between individuals and institutions responsible for pushing forward this agenda in each of the three jurisdictions.

► Strategy and Capacity Building for Improving Whistle-Blowing Systems and Establishing Regulations for the Protection of Whistle-Blowers in Costa Rica (Costa Rica, 2017-18) | Ministry of Justice and Peace in Costa Rica

Capacity-Building Activities

At the request of the Ministry of Justice and Peace in Costa Rica, GovRisk designed a programme to increase capacity building and political will to create a new whistleblowing reporting unit. This new unit would allow immediate, timely and effective responses to acts of corruption, as well as effectively protect whistle-blowers, safeguarding their integrity, names and employment status when dealing with individuals; as well as the legitimate interests of legal persons, when they seek to denounce acts of extortion or requests for bribery by corrupt officials. Following the delivery of the key project activities, GovRisk's experts submitted recommendations to participant authorities (Office of the Minister of Justice), which outlined targeted initiatives that senior officials indicated they would seek to implement.

South America

► Justice Management Reform Model: Better Public Efficiency and Reduced Corruption in Brazil (Brazil, 2016-17) | PGR Brazil

Technical Assistance

GovRisk was invited by the Prosecutor General of the Republic (PGR) to share best UK and international practice for increasing efficiency and performance in the judiciary system management model. As a result of the programme an improved and unique lawsuit workflow management model was created using international benchmarks which provided a great solution for the problem of poor performance in some courts. By having this new methodology mapped, analysed, designed and implemented, the courts were able to deliver faster judgments and rulings, decreasing the burden in the system and opening space for the adoption of new corruption-fighting targeted tools. Following the programme, which took place in both the UK and Brazil, senior members of the PGR proposed several internal measures to improve the performance of the PGR. To organise these measures, an action plan was created, pledging key actions to be undertaken as a result of the project.
